BANK OF SCOTLAND 1976 PENSION SCHEME MEMBERS' GUIDE

This is a guide to the wide range of benefits provided by the Bank of Scotland 1976 Pension Scheme.

The Scheme provides a pension related to salary at retirement, together with ill health and death benefits, which can provide important financial support to you and your family.

This guide gives a brief summary of the Scheme. It is not a substitute for the Trust Deed and Rules, which constitute the legal basis of the Scheme. If there is any inconsistency between the terms of the Trust Deed and Rules of the Fund and this guide, the Trust Deed and Rules as amended from time to time will prevail. Copies of these documents and further information about the Scheme can be obtained from:

1. DEFINITIONS

This section contains certain terms used in this guide.

Actuary - the actuary appointed by the Trustees as Scheme Actuary

Child or Children - normally means a child or children under age 18 or 23 if in full-time education.

Employers - means the Principal Employer and any body associated with the Principal Employer that participates in the Scheme.

Final Pensionable Salary - means your basic salary for the 12 month period ending at the date your Pensionable Service ends.

Normal Retirement Age - means age 60.

Pensionable Salary - means your annual rate of basic salary.

Pensionable Service - means service in years and months for which you have been a member of the Scheme, including any service transferred in from another pension arrangement.

Potential Pension - means the pension based on Final Pensionable Salary and the period of pensionable employment, which you would have completed if you had remained in service until your Normal Retirement Age.

Principal Employer - HBOS plc

Scheme - Bank of Scotland 1976 Pension Scheme

Spouse - means your legal spouse or civil partner. It may also mean a person (other than a Child) who the Trustees regard as financially dependent on you to a substantial extent.

State Pension Reduction (SPR) - This is a deduction from your scheme pension to take account of the basic state pension. This deduction is made from State Pension Age, when you start to receive your basic state pension.

Trustees - means the Trustees for the time being of the Scheme.
2. MEMBERSHIP

Can I join this pension scheme?

No, the Scheme was closed to new members on 30 September 2002.

Can I transfer my pension benefits from a previous employment?

The Trustees may accept transfer payments from other pension arrangements. Transfers will usually be accepted, provided that the transfer value is sufficient to pay for any Guaranteed Minimum Pension (refer to "10. STATE PENSION SCHEME") that is also transferred.

If you wish to consider such a transfer, you should contact Bank of Scotland Pensions Administration.

Can I opt out of the Scheme?

Yes, but you must inform Pensions Administration in writing. If you opt out, your membership will cease at the end of the month following that in which Pensions Administration receives your letter. Your benefits for opting out are explained in "7. LEAVING HBOS OR THE SCHEME".

If you choose to opt out, but remain with your Employer, you will have life assurance cover (refer to "8. BENEFITS ON DEATH WHILE IN EMPLOYMENT BEFORE PENSION STARTS") of four times your Pensionable Salary.

If I leave the Scheme, may I rejoin at a later date?

No.
3. CONTRIBUTIONS

How much do I pay to the Scheme?

If you are in the non contributory section of the Scheme you pay no contribution towards the Scheme.

If you are in the contributory section phased contributions starting at:
1% of your Pensionable Salary from May 2006 increasing to
2% of your Pensionable Salary from May 2007 increasing to
3% of your Pensionable Salary from May 2008 increasing to 4% of your Pensionable Salary from May 2009.

The Principal Employer may vary this contribution from time to time. You will receive notice of any change. Your contributions will cease when your Pensionable Service ends.

Do I get tax relief on my contributions?

Yes, subject to limits set by HM Revenue & Customs (see "5. TAX RELIEF"). As contributions are deducted from salary before tax is calculated, you currently receive tax relief automatically at your highest rate(s) of income tax.

What happens to my National Insurance contributions?

As a member of the Scheme you are contracted-out of the State Second Pension (refer to "10. STATE PENSION SCHEME") and, consequently, pay a lower rate of National Insurance Contributions.

Does HBOS contribute?

Yes. HBOS contributes the balance of cost necessary to provide the benefits of the Scheme, as advised by the Actuary.

What happens if I am absent from work through maternity / family leave?

During any period of paid maternity / family leave, your Pensionable Service will continue but you will not be required to pay Scheme contributions if applicable.

For periods of unpaid maternity leave, you will not pay Scheme contributions if applicable. However, you may pay them on your return if the Principal Employer agrees. If you do not pay them, your Pensionable Service will be reduced accordingly.

If you opt to pay missed contributions within 12 months of returning from a period of maternity leave, no interest will be charged. If, however, your missed contributions are paid when you have been back in employment for over 12 months, following a period of maternity / family leave, interest will be charged based on the Bank of England Base Rate.

What happens if I am absent from work through illness?

If you are absent through illness and continue to be paid, your Scheme contributions, if applicable, will continue to be deducted from your pay and your Pensionable Service will not be interrupted.
If you are not paid for any period of absence, you will not pay Scheme contributions, if applicable. However, you may pay them on your return if the Principal Employer agrees. If you do not pay them, your Pensionable Service will be reduced accordingly.

If you opt to pay missed contributions within 12 months of returning from a period of unpaid illness; no interest will be charged. If, however, your missed contributions are paid when you have been back in employment for over 12 months, following a period of unpaid illness, interest will be charged based on the Bank of England Base Rate.

4. ADDITIONAL VOLUNTARY CONTRIBUTIONS (AVCs)

Can I pay Additional Voluntary Contributions (AVCs) to provide additional benefits?

Yes, you have a choice of investment options as detailed below.

What are the advantages of AVCs?

Additional Voluntary Contributions (AVCs) allow you to increase your benefits and provide one of the most tax-effective ways of saving because:

- contributions currently attract income tax relief at your highest rate(s) - refer to "5. TAX RELIEF".

- the fund in which your contributions are invested benefits currently from tax concessions on its income and capital gains.

- there is a currently additional HBOS contribution (see below)

How do AVCs work?

AVCs allow members to build up a fund of money to purchase extra benefits.

Your contributions build up in a separate investment account. When you take your main Scheme benefits, the accumulated contributions and investment returns in your AVC fund may be used to buy extra benefits (refer also to Deferral of AVC Benefits later in this section). This means that you carry the investment risk and the level of benefits cannot be guaranteed.

How much can I contribute?

Whilst the amount of your AVCs is unlimited, your tax relief is subject to limits set by HM Revenue & Customs (refer to “5. TAX RELIEF”).
Does HBOS contribute towards AVCs?

Those members who do not contribute to the Bank of Scotland 1976 Pension Scheme do not receive any contribution matching from HBOS in respect of AVCs that they may pay.

For those members who do contribute to the Bank of Scotland 1976 Pension Scheme, HBOS will currently match half of your AVC up to a limit of 4% of your basic salary. We pay this into your investment account each month, based on your monthly basic salary.

The HBOS contribution is a concessionary benefit for colleagues and may be reviewed. The table below shows examples of the HBOS current contribution to AVCs.

If you pay AVCs to more than one of the funds listed below, any HBOS contribution will be paid in the same proportions as your own AVCs.

Can my AVCs be changed?

Yes. You can start or stop your AVCs at any time. You can also increase or reduce the amount you pay if you have a pay increase or if your personal circumstances change.

What benefits do AVCs provide?

When your pension starts, your AVC investment will allow you to increase your benefits.

If you elected to pay AVCs before April 2006, you may use them to buy pension from the Scheme or an annuity on the open market. If you elected to pay AVCs after April 2006, any pension purchased must be bought on the open market.

What if I die in HBOS employment and have not taken benefits early?

Your AVC fund will be paid to your dependants or your estate as a lump sum.

Although your choice will not bind the Trustees, you are strongly advised to complete a Nomination Form to let the Trustees know to whom you would like your AVCs to be paid. If you wish to change your nomination at a later date you should complete a new form.

Where are the contributions invested?

You may choose to invest your contributions in one or more of the following arrangements:
STANDARD LIFE

Pension Sterling One Fund

The Standard Life Pension Sterling One Fund is designed for investors who are looking for a temporary home for their money when short-term outlook for equities, bonds and property is uncertain. The return on your investments in this fund is directly related to the performance of the assets in which it invests. This fund invests not only in bank/building society deposits but also holds other short term sterling assets. You may get back less than you invest.

The investment strategy of this fund is continuously reviewed and may be changed in line with developments in the relevant markets.

The sterling value of overseas assets in this fund may rise and fall as a result of exchange rate fluctuations.

This fund does not offer any significant potential for growth, but it does offer a high degree of stability. It may suit investors close to retirement (for example, less than 2 years), as it will help protect the value of their pension and/or any lump sum they may decide to take. However, investors in this group miss out on opportunities for growth, so this may be less suitable for investors with a longer term to retirement.

Unit prices can be found on Standard Life website – www.standardlife.co.uk.

Pension With-Profits One Fund

The with-profits account is an insurance policy. It works by Standard Life pooling all its individual with-profits policies together and investing them in company shares and other investments. Each year, the company distributes the investment returns as bonuses.

When you retire, you also get a final bonus, which is any extra profits that have been earned over the years but which weren’t paid out as annual bonuses.

Annual bonuses usually come from the income generated by the investments (like dividends) and some of the capital growth (the increase in value of the shares and other investments). In good years, Standard Life will keep back some of the profits to help boost the returns from bad years. The new financial reporting rules introduced in 2004 require companies backing guarantees with an investment mix dominated by equities and property to hold more capital in reserve than before.

The final bonus usually represents the rest of the capital growth. As you know, share prices go down as well as up, and so the final bonus is not guaranteed until it is actually paid.

Any investment in stock markets has some sort of risk. It is not as safe as cash, because you can’t predict a stock market crash. But, in normal circumstances, a with-profits policy is not as risky as buying your own stocks and shares.

You also need to remember that, although bonuses are guaranteed once they are in your account, Standard Life will reserve the right to apply a surrender penalty. This is called a market value adjustment. They may apply this penalty to your account if it turns out that there is not enough money in the fund to pay for the bonuses. This can happen, for example, if stock markets crash. There will not be any adjustment made if you take the money at your Normal Retirement Age.
No explicit fund management charge is taken from the pension with profits funds because Standard Life makes deductions for their costs, including an allowance for the cost of guarantees provided by with profits business, and an appropriate profit margin to support Standard Life's capital requirements. The rebate of 0.375% applied also applies.

Pension Managed One Fund

A managed fund is like a cross between a with-profits account and buying your own stocks and shares. The Standard Life managed fund aims to give good long-term growth by investing in a wide range of shares both in the UK and overseas, as well as in property and fixed interest investments.

Standard Life has lots of different managed funds. The Trustees have chosen the balanced managed fund. Each contribution you make buys units in the fund. This is sometimes known as 'unit linked'.

The Managed One Fund is primarily equity based with significant exposure to UK equities, the remaining assets are held in overseas equities, fixed interest stocks and property.

The managed fund invests more in assets that should give the best return over long periods. But, there is also the real risk that the value of the fund can fall over shorter periods.

However, the value of your account depends entirely on the value of the units on any one day. There are no bonuses on this type of account. The price of units can go down as well as up, which means that this type of account is less easy to predict than a with-profits account. You could also find that the value drops just as you are about to retire. You could even find that your account is worth less than you have paid in.

Managed funds like this best suit people that have got some time to go before retiring. That way, if the investments do go down, there is still time to make up the lost ground.

You have to pay charges on this account. Standard Life make a charge for managing Group AVC Plan investment. For investment linked funds this is known as a fund management charge and is set as an annual percentage of the value of your funds. Standard Life’s current fund management charge is 1.00% a year of the value of your fund. There is a rebate of 0.375% each year achieved by monthly creation of units.

The Pension FTSE Tracker One Fund

The Standard Life Pension FTSE Tracker One Fund aims to closely track the performance of the FTSE All-Share Index, allowing for re-investment of dividends (but before deduction of charges). The fund will invest in a broad spread of the UK listed equities which are constituents of the FTSE All-Share Index.

Changing Investment Funds

Changing the funds in which your plan is invested is called ‘switching’. Switches can be made at any time. The first 20 switches in any 12-month period are free. Standard Life will not normally make a charge for switching funds, however if more than 20 switches are requested in any 12 month period Standard Life reserves the right to charge for these additional switches. Standard Life also reserves the right to charge if a switch involves an external fund and the external fund manager charges Standard Life for the switch.
For each arrangement, you will receive an annual statement that shows how your investment has performed. Information on past performance of the various funds that you can invest in can be obtained from the pension scheme administrators (see section 12 for the contact details)

Can I defer taking my AVC benefits?

Yes. This involves leaving your AVCs invested after taking your main Scheme benefits until any time up to age 75. You might do this if you felt that, at the time of taking benefits, your AVCs were undervalued or subject to early payment penalties that might not apply in the future.

If you defer drawing your AVC benefits, further contributions cannot be paid, but your AVCs continue to be invested until you withdraw them.

This is a complex area and there are risks involved. Therefore, the Trustees strongly recommend that you take independent financial advice before you decide to defer taking your AVC benefits.

What do I do next?

Within GroupNet/HR in HBOS/Pensions:

- The Retirement Planner/AVC Calculator is available to help you plan your benefits.
- A form is available to start/stop/change your AVCs.

If you need more information on AVCs, you can contact Pensions Administration (refer to "12. FURTHER INFORMATION").
5. TAX RELIEF

Your contributions and any AVCs are deducted from your pay before you are assessed for income tax. In this way, full tax relief is given on your contributions up to certain limits.

Although there is no actual limit on contributions, tax relief is only available on your contributions to all registered pension arrangements up to 100% of your gross earnings in each tax year (or £3,600 if higher).

There is also a limit, known as the Annual Allowance, on the increase in the value of your pension benefits. This limit is £215,000 for the 2006/07 tax year and any increase in value above this limit will be subject to tax at 40% for which you would be liable. However, this limit does not apply in the tax year in which your benefits are taken in full or in which death occurs.

In assessing the increase in value of your Scheme benefits against the Annual Allowance, a multiple of 10 is applied to any increase in the value of your pension during a tax year. For example, for the 2006/07 tax year, your pension would have to increase by more than £21,500 per annum before you would be liable for this tax charge. In assessing this figure, any tax relievable AVCs and additional HBOS contributions to your AVC fund(s) are added to the value of the increase your main Scheme benefits and any increase to the value of your benefits under other registered pension schemes during the relevant period.

Any other pension plans, which you may have, must be taken into account when completing a self-assessment Income Tax return.
6. RETIREMENT BENEFITS (including taking benefits from the Scheme early, whilst continuing to work for HBOS)

What benefit will I receive at Normal Retirement Age?

Your annual pension will be calculated as follows:
1/60 x Final Pensionable Salary x Pensionable Service less, at state retirement age, a deduction for the State Pension Reduction based on 1/133 x Pensionable Service x single person’s state pension in force at date of retirement.

For non contributory members all pensionable service will be used to calculate the State Pension Reduction. For contributory members there is no State Pension Reduction for service after 6 April 2006.

For colleagues in the contributory section, a 50ths accrual rate applies at level 5 and 6. If you are eligible for such an accrual rate, you will have been notified individually.

Example:

A member (non contributory) retires with a Final Pensionable Salary of £24,000 after completing 32 years of full time Pensionable Service. £4,381 is the single person’s state pension as at April 2006.

\[ \frac{1}{60} \times £24,000 \times 32 = £12,800 \text{ a year less State Pension Reduction (SPR) of} \]
\[ \frac{1}{133} \times £4381 \times 32 = £1054.08 \text{ a year.} \]

A member (contributory) retires with a Final Pensionable Salary of £24,000 after completing 32 years of full time Pensionable Service, where 20 years completed before 6 April 2006 and 12 years completed after 6 April 2006.

\[ \frac{1}{60} \times £24,000 \times 32 = £12,800 \text{ a year less State Pension Reduction (SPR) of} \]
\[ \frac{1}{133} \times £4381 \times 20 = £658.80 \text{ a year.} \]

What happens if I transfer between full and part time employment or change my hours of work?

For both non contributory and contributory members, a separate calculation is made for each period worked at a different number of hours and the results are added together.

The corresponding full time salary is first obtained, as explained below. The number of hours you are required to work as a proportion of full time hours is then calculated and applied to your Pensionable Service.

Example:

A non contributory member retires after completing Pensionable Service of 10 years working full time (35 hours) followed by 12 years working 20 hours per week with a Final Pensionable Salary of £6,000.

Corresponding full time salary:

\[ £6,000 \times 35 \text{ (full time hours) / 20 (part time hours)} = £10,500 \]
Pension:

\frac{1}{60} \times 10,500 \times 10 \text{ (full time hours)} = £1,750 \text{ a year}
less SPR of \[
\frac{1}{133} \times 4,381 \times 10 \text{ (full time hours)} = £329.40 \text{ a year}

Plus

\frac{1}{60} \times 10,500 \times (12 \times 20 \text{ (part time hours)} / 35 \text{ (full time hours)}) = £1,200 \text{ a year}
less SPR of \[
\frac{1}{133} \times 4,381 \times (12 \times 20 \text{ (part time hours) / 35 (full time hours)}) = £225.87

Total Pension = £2,950 a year
less SPR = £555.27

What benefit will I receive if I retire early?

This answer only applies if you are retiring from the Scheme. It does not apply if you leave HBOS and choose to draw your pension early at a later date.

You may retire early from HBOS at any time at or after age 50 (age 55 if on or after 6 April 2010) with an immediate pension, subject to employer consent.

If you retire early you will receive an annual pension of:

\frac{1}{60} \times \text{Final Pensionable Salary} \times \text{Pensionable Service} \times \text{Pension Reduction}
less SPR \[
\frac{1}{133} \times \text{Single Person’s State Pension} \times \text{Pensionable Salary}

In these circumstances, because your pension will be paid for longer and cost more, in the interests of the Scheme and all its members, reductions are applied to the amount of your pension. The current reductions are shown in the table below. If you retire between birthdays, the reduction will be adjusted accordingly.

These reductions are decided by the Trustees from time to time based on actuarial advice although they will seek to give you advance notice of any change.

Different reductions apply to deferred pensions drawn early (see "7. LEAVING HBOS OR THE SCHEME" for more information).
Example:

A non contributory member retires at age 59 with a Final Pensionable Salary of £24,000 after completing 32 years of Pensionable Service.

\frac{1}{60} \times £24,000 \times 32 \times 3\% = £12,416 \text{ a year}

less SPR 1/133 \times 4381 \times 32 = £1054.08 a year at state pension age

Can I take benefits from the Scheme early and continue to work for HBOS?

If your Employer agrees, you can choose to take your entire pension at any time at or after age 50 (age 55 if on or after 6 April 2010) and continue to work for HBOS, a process known as 'flexible retirement'. If you do this, the conditions and reductions above will apply and you will not be allowed to re-join the Scheme. However, you will be allowed to join the HBOS Group Money Purchase Scheme in respect of your continued employment.

You will continue to be covered by life assurance (refer to "7. BENEFITS ON DEATH WHILE IN EMPLOYMENT BEFORE PENSION STARTS"), but any life assurance payment will be reduced by any lump sum payment under "9. BENEFITS ON AFTER PENSION STARTS".

What happens if I have to retire early because of ill health?

A pension may be paid on special terms with the consent of the Principal Employer if you have to leave employment because of ill health, provided that you have been a member of the Scheme for five years. In addition, the Trustees must by law have received evidence from a registered medical practitioner that you meet a certain prescribed standard of ill-health before such a pension can be paid.

The Principal Employer considers each case of ill-health retirement on an individual basis, and its decision on whether you are sufficiently ill for ill-health retirement is final.

You will receive a pension based on your Final Pensionable Salary at the date of ill-health retirement and your Pensionable Service you have built up, plus the pensionable employment you could have completed to Normal Retirement Age (subject to a maximum of 40 years) less State Pension Reduction at state pension age. The State Pension reduction is based on the single person’s state pension in force at date of retirement.
Can I give up part of my pension for a cash sum?

When your pension is due to be paid, you may exchange part of it for a cash sum that is currently tax-free. The amount of your cash sum will be notified to you at the time of taking your benefits and it will normally be the maximum allowed as prescribed by HM Revenue & Customs. As a guide, the figure will be, broadly, up to a maximum of five times your pension before cash is taken.

You can use your AVC fund to provide benefits when you take your pension from the Scheme. (See Section 4 Deferral of AVC Benefits when you can choose to leave AVC fund invested) When you decide to take your pension, you can use your AVC fund to provide additional pension or, alternatively, you can take all or part of your AVC fund as a cash (provided that your AVC fund does not exceed the overall limit on cash).

Any cash that you take from your AVCs will reduce the amount of cash you can take from the Scheme.

If you elected to pay AVCs before April 2006, you may use them to buy pension from the Scheme or an annuity with Standard Life or an annuity on the open market. If you elected to pay AVCs after April 2006, any pension purchased must be bought from either Standard Life or on the open market.

If you choose to exchange part of your pension for a lump sum, the pension given up will be based on a factor (called a commutation factor), which depends on your age at the relevant time.

Taking cash from the Scheme may reduce the amount of any spouse’s pension payable on your death after taking benefits (refer to "9. BENEFITS ON AFTER PENSION STARTS").

How and when is my pension paid?

Your pension is paid in arrears in monthly instalments by credit transfer into your bank account.

Do pensions from the Scheme increase during payment?

Yes. Pension based on service prior to 6th April 1997 will have discretionary increases. Pension based on service post 6th April 1997 will have increases based on 5% or by the rate of change in the Retail Prices Index (RPI), if lower.

Your first increase will be calculated proportionately. Your increase will be based on the length of time you have been receiving your pension. Pensions increase on 1st April each year.

If you have any additional voluntary contributions, any additional pension purchased from the Scheme will be increased in line with RPI up to a maximum of 5%.

Any further increase is discretionary and will be decided by the Principal Employer and agreed with the Trustees.
The following points apply after you reach State Pension Age:

- As a result of contracting-out, your pension from the Scheme may include a Guaranteed Minimum Pension (GMP) for benefits accrued up to 5 April 1997. This replaces the amount of 'additional pension' that you would otherwise have received as a member of the State Earnings Related Pension Scheme known as SERPS (refer to "10. STATE PENSION SCHEME" in this document for further details).

- Pensions in payment above the GMP are guaranteed to increase each year as set out above.

- The State (and not the Scheme) is responsible for paying any increase on GMP earned between April 1978 and April 1988. Increases on GMP (up to 3%) earned after April 1988 are paid through the Scheme.

The State keeps a record of the 'additional pension' that you would otherwise have received as a member of SERPS and ensures that it is protected against inflation. If less than your GMP at State Pension Age, the State will only pay increases on such 'additional pension' when it has caught up with your GMP. Any increase to your 'additional pension' will be paid with your state pension.
7. LEAVING HBOS OR THE SCHEME

What happens to my pension?

You will be entitled to a deferred pension payable from your Normal Retirement Age calculated on the following basis:

\[ \frac{1}{60} \times \text{Final Pensionable Salary} \times \text{Pensionable Service less SPR} \]
\[ \frac{1}{133} \times \text{Single Person's State Pension} \times \text{Pensionable Service} \] (to 6 April 2006 only if contributory member)

Example:

A non contributory member leaves with a Final Pensionable Salary of £18,000 after completing 10 years of Pensionable Service.

\[ \frac{1}{60} \times £18,000 \times 10 = £3,000 \text{ a year less SPR of} \]
\[ \frac{1}{133} \times £ 4381 \times 10 = £329.40 \text{ a year from state pension age.} \]

A Statement of Pension Entitlement will be sent to you shortly after you leave.

If you have less than two years pensionable service as a member of the Scheme, the pension administrators will advise you of your options.

Will my deferred pension increase after I leave?

Yes. While you remain a deferred member (i.e. before your pension starts to be paid), your pension in excess of the Guaranteed Minimum Pension (refer to "10. STATE PENSION SCHEME") is currently increased in line with the increase in the Retail Prices Index for each complete year to the payment date up to a maximum of 5%.

Your Guaranteed Minimum Pension is revalued in line with the rise in fixed rate revaluation orders. Since 6 April 2002 this rate is 4.5%.

When in payment, your pension will be increased in the same way as other pensions (refer to "6. RETIREMENT BENEFITS").

May I have my deferred pension paid before Normal Retirement Age?

Instead of a deferred pension, you may have an immediate annual pension paid at any time at or after age 50 (age 55 if on or after 6 April 2010), provided that you give the Trustees six months’ written notice. Because pensions will be paid for longer and cost more, in the interests of the Scheme and all its members, reductions in pensions are applied on a scale advised by the Actuary. This scale is different from the scale described in "6. RETIREMENT BENEFITS". Please contact Group Pensions, Trinity Road, Halifax for further details.

In cases of extreme ill health of a deferred member, early payment of a deferred pension will be considered, subject to satisfactory medical evidence.
What happens if I die before my deferred pension comes into payment?

If you are a contributory member, your spouse’s pension is worked out as 50% of your pension accrued to 5 April 2006 i.e. based on pensionable service up to 5 April 2006 plus 66.7% of your pension accrued from 6 April 2006 to date of leaving, including any increases awarded to the date of death less 50% of your State Pension Reduction. Children’s pensions may also be paid (refer to "8. BENEFITS ON DEATH WHILE IN EMPLOYMENT BEFORE PENSION STARTS").

If you are a non contributory member, your spouse’s pension is worked out as 50% of the pension at date of leaving, including any increases awarded to date of death less 50% of your State Pension Reduction

Are there any conditions relating to Spouse’s and Children’s pensions?

Yes. The pension payable to a Spouse who is more than 10 years younger than you is reduced.

If you marry or enter into a civil partnership after leaving the Scheme and then die within one year, your Spouse is entitled only to the statutory proportion of your Guaranteed Minimum Pension. (refer to "10. STATE PENSION SCHEME"). The Trustees have discretion to pay the full spouse’s pension. Further information will be given on request.

Can I transfer my pension benefits to another pension arrangement?

As an alternative to a deferred pension, you may transfer your pension rights under the Scheme to:

- your new employer’s scheme
- a personal pension plan
- another insured pension arrangement.

You may request a Transfer Value Statement at any time, although the Trustees may limit the number of calculations to one a year.

How will my transfer value be calculated?

Your transfer value is calculated on a basis agreed by the Trustees on the advice of the Actuary. It is worked out as the amount that needs to be invested to produce your expected benefits at retirement. The calculation basis includes an allowance for guaranteed pension increases and the Trustees have also asked the Actuary to include an allowance for discretionary pension increases. The calculation of your transfer value is based on your age and on certain assumptions about future inflation rates, average life expectancy and investment returns.

You should note that the transfer value would depend on investment conditions at the time of the quotation. For this reason, a transfer value can go up or down. However, the amount shown on your quotation will be guaranteed for three months. This does not apply to any money purchase AVCs, the transfer value of which is simply the value of your AVC investment.
In the unlikely event that there are insufficient funds in the Scheme, it may be necessary to reduce the amount of the transfer payment; if this applies, you will be given details in the Statement issued with your calculation notice.
8. BENEFITS ON DEATH WHILE IN EMPLOYMENT BEFORE PENSION STARTS

What pension is payable to my Spouse when I die?

If you are a contributory member, your spouse’s pension on death in service is worked out as 50% of your pension accrued to 05 April 2006 i.e. based on pensionable service up to 05 April 2006 plus 66.7% of your pension accrued from 06 April 2006 up to your normal retirement date less 50% of your State Pension Reduction at normal retirement date.

Example:

A contributory member dies four years before Normal Retirement Age after completing 20 years’ Pensionable Service. Ten years of pensionable service attained up to 05 April 2006 and ten years pensionable service attained after 06 April 2006. The member’s Final Pensionable Salary was £24,000.

\begin{align*}
(1/60 \times £24,000 \times 10) \times 2 & = £2,000 \text{ Plus} \\
(1/60 \times £24,000 \times (10 + 4))/2/3 & = £3,733 \\
\text{Sub total spouse’s pension} & = £5,733 \text{ a year less State Pension Reduction} \\
(1/133 \times £4381 \times 10) \times 2 & = £164.70 \text{ a year} \\
\text{Total spouse’s pension} & = £5,568.30 \text{ a year}
\end{align*}

If you are a non contributory member, your spouse’s pension on death in service is worked out as 50% of your potential pension at normal retirement date less 50% of your State Pension Reduction at normal retirement date.

Example:

A non contributory member dies four years before Normal Retirement Age after completing 20 years’ Pensionable Service. His Final Pensionable Salary was £24,000.

\begin{align*}
(1/60 \times £24,000 \times (20 + 4)) \times 2 & = £4,800 \text{ a year less State Pension Reduction} \\
(1/133 \times £4381 \times (20 + 4)) \times 2 & = £395.27 \\
\text{Total spouse’s pension} & = £4,404.73 \text{ a year}
\end{align*}

Your Spouse may choose, before the benefit comes into payment, to take the cash value of it as a lump sum. In this case, your Spouse will be recommended to take independent financial advice.

What if I am not married or do not have a civil partner when I die?

If you are not married or do not have a civil partner when you die, the Spouse’s pension may be paid to someone who, in the opinion of the Trustees, is financially dependent on you at that time to a substantial extent.

Will a pension be paid for the benefit of my Children?

Yes, if you die leaving a Child or Children. In addition to any pension payable to your Spouse or Civil Partner, Children will be entitled to annual pensions based on:

- 1 Child 20% of spouse’s pension
- 2 Children 30% of spouse’s pension
3 Children  40% of spouse’s pension
4 Children  50% of spouse’s pension

If no spouse’s, civil partner’s or dependant’s pension is payable, the children allowance shall double.

Any pension payable to a Child will cease to be paid when the Child is no longer a Child.

Are there any conditions relating to Spouse’s and Children's pensions?

Yes. The pension payable to a Spouse who is more than 10 years younger than you is reduced. Such a reduction is ignored when calculating children’ pensions due.

Further information will be given on request.

What is my life assurance cover if I die in HBOS employment?

Life assurance cover of four times your Pensionable Salary is payable in addition to any Spouse’s or Children’s pension. If you have chosen to opt out of the Scheme, you will still have this life assurance cover while you remain in HBOS employment.

Although your choice will not bind the Trustees, you are strongly advised to complete a Nomination Form to let the Trustees know to whom you would like this lump sum to be paid. If you wish to change your nomination at a later date you should complete a new form.
9. BENEFITS ON AFTER PENSION STARTS

What pension is payable to my Spouse when I die?

If you are a contributory scheme member, your spouse’s pension will be worked out as 50% of your pension accrued to 05 April 2006 i.e. based on pensionable service up to 05 April 2006 plus 66.7% of your pension accrued from 06 April 2006 up to the date of taking benefits, less 50% of your State Pension Reduction at normal retirement date.

If you are a non contributory member, your spouse’s pension will be worked out as 50% of your pension. Your Spouse’s pension will be the greater of 50% of the amount of your original pension before any pension was exchanged for a cash sum on taking benefits and 50% of your pension at date of death including increases granted after taking benefits to the date of your death. Both values deduct 50% of the State Pension Reduction at normal retirement date.

Your Spouse may choose to take the cash value of this benefit as a lump sum. In this case, your Spouse will be recommended to take independent financial advice.

Will a pension be paid for the benefit of my Children?

Yes, if you die leaving a Child or Children. The Child’s pension will be calculated as shown under “8. BENEFITS ON DEATH WHILE IN EMPLOYMENT BEFORE PENSION STARTS” except that it will be based on the spouse’s pension calculated as above.

Are there any conditions relating to Spouse’s and Children’s pensions?

Yes. The pension payable to a Spouse who is more than 10 years younger than you is reduced. This reduction is ignored when calculating children’ allowances.

If you marry or enter into a civil partnership after your retirement and then die within one year, your Spouse is entitled only to the statutory proportion of your Guaranteed Minimum Pension (refer to “10. STATE PENSION SCHEME”). The Trustees have discretion to pay the full spouse’s pension. Further information will be given on request.

Do Spouse and Children’s pensions increase during payment?

Yes. Spouse’s and Children’s pensions are increased on a similar basis to retirement pensions in payment (refer to “6. RETIREMENT BENEFITS”).

Is a lump sum payable?

If you die less than five years after your pension starts, a lump sum equal to the total pension which would have been paid to you for the remainder of the five year period is payable. It will be paid in the same way as the lump sum referred to under “8. BENEFITS ON DEATH WHILE IN EMPLOYMENT BEFORE PENSION STARTS” and will be paid in addition to any spouse’s or children pensions which become payable.
10. STATE PENSION SCHEME

How does my membership of the Scheme affect my pension from the State?

State pension benefits are in two parts as follows:

The State basic pension
This pension is payable in addition to your pension from the Scheme. The amount of the State basic pension depends upon your history of National Insurance contributions.

The State Second Pension (S2P)
All contributing members of the Scheme under State Pension Age are contracted-out of S2P on a salary-related basis and, consequently, pay a lower rate of National Insurance contributions. Up to 5th April 2002 contributing members were contracted out of the State Earnings Related Pension Scheme (SERPS).

For membership before April 1997, as a result of contracting-out, the Scheme must pay at least the Guaranteed Minimum Pension as explained below:

Guaranteed Minimum Pension (GMP)
This replaces the amount of additional pension that you would otherwise have received as a member of SERPS.

Your pension from the Scheme includes a Guaranteed Minimum Pension for benefits accrued up to 5 April 1997.

GMPs will not accrue for benefits earned after 5 April 1997.

For membership from 6 April 1997, the Actuary has to certify that the Scheme has passed the reference scheme test. This means that the Scheme must provide overall benefits for members and their Spouses that broadly match or are better than the benefits they would have received from SERPS/S2P.

In fact, the benefits provided by the Scheme are better than those provided under SERPS/S2P.

What is the State Pension Age?

State Pension Age is 65 for men and for women born after 5 April 1955. Women born between 6 April 1950 and 5 April 1955 will have a State Pension Age between 60 and 65. For women born before 6 April 1950, State Pension Age is 60.
11. OTHER IMPORTANT MATTERS

What happens to pension contributions?

Members' pension contributions and those made by the Employers are invested with the aim of providing income and capital gains, in a risk controlled environment, to secure Scheme benefits. The Scheme is managed by the Trustees who hold the investments and other assets separately from those of the Employers. Although the Trustees are responsible for managing the Scheme, they take expert advice where appropriate.

Can I assign my benefits?

No. The benefits described in this guide are personal to you. They cannot be assigned or used as security for a loan.

Can the Scheme be amended or terminated?

The Scheme may be amended at any time by the Principal Employer with the agreement of the Trustees.

The Principal Employer has the power to terminate the Scheme without replacing it. The Employers are not obliged, except as required by law, to pay benefits if the resources of the Scheme are insufficient to provide them.

If the Scheme is wound up, the assets of the Scheme will be used to provide benefits according to the provisions of the Trust Deed and Rules.

You will be kept fully informed of any material changes made to the Scheme.

Who administers the Scheme?

The Trustees are responsible for the administration of the Scheme in accordance with the Trust Deed and Rules. They have expert advisers to help them in financial, investment and legal matters.

There are ten trustees, three of whom are selected from the members of the Scheme. Their names are available from Bank of Scotland Pensions Administration.

When can I get a transfer value estimate?

If you are an active member or have a deferred pension, you may ask for an estimated transfer value of your benefits at any time although the Trustees may limit the number of calculations to one a year.

Is the Scheme registered with the HM Revenue & Customs?

Yes. The Scheme is registered with HM Revenue & Customs under Chapter 2 of Part 4 of the Finance Act 2004.

This guide refers to a number of tax advantages enjoyed by the Scheme and its members. The tax position may, however, change from time to time.
What is the Lifetime Allowance?

The Lifetime Allowance is the value of benefits that you can draw from all registered pension schemes in your lifetime, without incurring an additional tax charge. Scheme benefits will be assessed against the Lifetime Allowance by applying a multiple of 20 to your Scheme pension. Any AVC fund(s) and lump sum death benefits are assessed at face value and any other pension plans, which you may have, must be taken into account.

The Standard Lifetime Allowance is set by HM Revenue & Customs (£1.5 million for the 2006/07 tax year).
12. FURTHER INFORMATION

Who regulates the Trustees and their advisers?

The Pensions Regulator is able to intervene in the running of schemes where trustees, employers or professional advisers have failed in their duties. The address is:

Invicta House
Trafalgar Place
Brighton
East Sussex
BN1 4DW

www.thepensionsregulator.gov.uk

The Trustees have established an internal procedure to cover the resolution of disputes between the Trustees, current members, beneficiaries, and prospective members.
You will need to put your complaint in writing to the Pensions Manager, Trinity Road, Halifax, HX1 2RG and you will receive a written decision, where possible within two months. If you are still dissatisfied, you have the right of appeal to the Trustees. You can obtain a copy of the procedure from Pensions Administration Department.

TPAS (The Pensions Advisory Service) is available at any time to assist members and beneficiaries of the Scheme in connection with any:

- pensions query they may have
- difficulty that they have failed to resolve with the Trustees or administrators of the Scheme.

If any complaint or dispute of fact or law relating to the Scheme cannot be satisfactorily resolved by TPAS, the Pensions Ombudsman may investigate and determine the matter.

The address of both TPAS and the Pensions Ombudsman is:
